

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my sincere regards to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Taiwan (ROC) and their Embassy in Burkina Faso. Thank to their scholarship program, I have been able to conduct this research to its end. These regards are extended to the professors of the department of history of the University of Ouagadougou, to His Excellency Jacques Savadogo, the Burkina Faso Ambassador in Taiwan (ROC), his family, and all the staff members of the Embassy for their multifold support, and concern during my stay in Taiwan.

To all the professors of the International Master in Taiwan Studies (IMTS) and particularly to Professor Yih Chyi Chuang the advisor of this thesis for its patience, rigor and precious advices for the achievement of this thesis, I simply would like to say thank you. I am equally indebted to professors Jen-Te Hwang, and Mei Shu, the committee members for the defense of this thesis. Their advices and encouragements provide the necessary strength, and inspiration to go forwards.

To Country mates, classmates, and friends, we may simply say; this thesis is yours.

Dear family of the True Jesus Church of Taiwan, words seems to me so limited to express my deep feeling. Thank you for the share love and the multifold support during my stay. To all my family members in la Cote d'Ivoire, Burkina Faso, France, and elsewhere, thank you.

To you my lovely son Lionel, thank you for your understanding, and sorry for not been there for you at key times of your life.
